DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election without traverse of the embodiment of Figure 7, claims 6-11, in the reply filed on 10/27/05 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 1-5 and 12-36 withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 10/27/05.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The listing of references, specifically US Patent 5560385, in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 7 recites the element "a solid object positioned in the space." It is unclear what the applicant intends this element to be or how the element relates to the rest of the claimed subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 6, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zheng in US Patent 6360761.

a. Regarding Claim 6, Zheng '761 discloses an assembly, comprising a first panel (A, best seen in Zheng '761, Figure 5), a second panel (B), a third panel (C) and a fourth panel (D), each panel defined by a foldable frame member (40, see Zheng '761, Column 3, lines 21-26) that has a folded and an unfolded orientation (see Zheng '761, Column 3, lines 44-48), and a sheet material (42, see Zheng '761, Column 3, lines 49-56) covering the respective frame member when the respective frame member is in the unfolded orientation, each panel further having a left side and a right side; and wherein the right side (72) of the first panel is hingedly connected to the left side (36) of the second panel, the right side (66) of the third panel is hingedly connected to the left side (32) of the fourth panel, the left side (74) of the first panel is removably connected to the right side (E) of the fourth panel, and the right side (F) of the second panel is removably connected to the left (68) side of the third panel.

b. Regarding Claim 8, Zheng '761 discloses that each panel (A, B, C, D) has a periphery, and further includes a peripheral sleeve extending along the periphery of each panel for retaining the respective frame member (40, see Zheng '761, Column 3, lines 21-26).

c. Regarding Claim 9, Zheng '761 discloses that each frame member forms a plurality of concentric frame members when it has been twisted and folded into the folded orientation (see Zheng '761, Figures 3B, 3C, 3D and 3E, and Column 3, lines 36-48).

Zheng '761, Figure 5

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zheng '761 as applied to Claim 6 above. Zheng '761 discloses that the four panels are connected together to form a ring of panels that define a space therebetween (see Zheng '761, Column 3, lines 13-15: "comprises four panels... connected to each other to encircle an enclosed space"). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the device of Zheng '761 by positioning a solid object in the enclosed space in order to utilize the ring of panels to hide the solid object.

9. Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zheng '761 as applied to Claim 6 above in view of Zheng in US Patent 6082386. As stated above, Zheng '761 discloses all of the limitation of Claim 6 including an assembly with four collapsible panels, but does not disclose the shapes of the panels. Zheng '386 discloses an assembly with four panels (82, 78, 80 and 76, Best seen in Zheng '386, Figure 4), wherein the first (82) and third (78) panels have a first size and shape and the second (80) and fourth (76) panels have a second size and shape that is different from the first size and shape. It would have be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the device of Zheng '761 by using two sets of panels with different size and shape as taught by Zheng '386 in order to fulfill the size and shape needs of the artisan depending on how the assembly was to be used.

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Zheng '281, Zheng '394, Shinner et al., Louie '595, Chu et al., Louie '753, Zheng '552, and Louie '511 disclose collapsible structures.
